PhD in Statistics

We offer attractive stipends to postgraduate research students to undertake their PhD studies in the Department of Mathematics. Outstanding applicants may be recommended to apply for the Hong Kong PhD fellowship scheme offered by the University Grants Committee of the Hong Kong Government. A successful applicant of this prestigious scheme would receive HK$20,000 (HK$7.8 \approx US$1) stipend per month, plus HK$10,000 travel allowance per year, for three years. (The median monthly employment earning in Hong Kong, as an indicator of the cost of living, is HK$10,000.)

You will find here an English-language multi-cultural learning environment, world-class professors and excellent research facilities.

Professors in Statistics include, notably,

- Sung Nok CHIU, associate editor of leading journals such as Advances in Applied Probability;
- Man Lai TANG, ISI elected member, associate editor of leading journals such as Communication in Statistics;
- Lixing ZHU, fellow of IMS and ASA, Humboldt Research Award winner, associate editor of leading journals such as Statistica Sinica.
